You are helping to give our tiniest patients the best possible start to life...

Mater Prize Home has been changing lives since 1954! That's more than seven decades of sensational properties, big winners and incredible support from YOU! Thank you for helping to fund the vital medical research, equipment and patient care, that's offered hope and healing to thousands of patients... just like Matilda.

At just 10 days old, Matilda underwent life-saving open-heart surgery.

Matilda is now a vibrant, fearless child. Pictured with parents Danielle and Jonty, alongside sibling Parker.

Running through the playground, Matilda is full of life—adventurous, cheeky and confident. Her bright smile lights up every room, but beneath her fearless spirit lies a story of unimaginable strength.

At just 10 days old, tiny Matilda underwent life-saving open-heart surgery. Her parents, Danielle and Jonty, can still vividly recall the heartache of that day.

"Having to kiss her goodbye and watching them wheel her little crib down the hallway was a lot... I remember breaking down in tears... it felt like the longest wait of our life", Jonty shared.

Matilda's health journey began before she was born. At 20 weeks gestation, Danielle and Jonty received the devastating news that their baby had a congenital heart defect called Transposition of the Great Arteries (TGA)—a condition where the two main arteries of the heart are reversed.

"We were in absolute shock when we found out Matilda might not survive if her heart defect was left untreated," Danielle recalled.

Thankfully, the Mater Centre for Maternal Fetal Medicine team was there to offer a glimmer of hope. With their expertise in fetal heart ultrasounds, a crucial scan performed by a specialist team identified Matilda's condition early, giving her parents and medical team time to prepare for the complex care Matilda would need once born. Matilda spent nine days in the Mater Mothers' Neonatal Critical Care Unit when she was born, receiving around the clock care from a team of doctors and nurses.

Today, Matilda's heart is strong, and while she will need regular check-ups throughout her life, her parents are eternally grateful.

"You just look at her and can't believe everything she's been through at such a young age. Matilda is thriving because the Mater team gave her the best chance at life," Danielle said.

Your support of Mater Prize Home, helps fund vital medical research, equipment and patient care at Mater—changing the lives of babies like Matilda.
